

Hey Toddler Parents,

"When the going gets tough,
may I choose love over fear.
Every time."

-Katrina Kenison

As a young man, David had the opportunity to make a choice between love and fear when the Israelites were being ridiculed and mocked by Goliath. All of the bigger, stronger soldiers were too afraid to stand up for God against the giant. But David knew the Lord would rescue him as he had always done. David knew that even when he was afraid, God was with him and would help him.

Here are some practical ways to engage with the Bible story and bring what your kids are learning at church back into your home!

• When you are out and about, notice with your child things that are big and things that are small. Talk about how God is bigger than anything we can see or imagine, and remind them that this big God loves them very much.

• Draw a picture with your child of something big. While drawing and coloring, talk about how David might have felt afraid when he saw someone so big, but he knew God would take care of him.

Our kids are never too young to start learning that God understands their fears and wants to help them!

Hey Toddler Parents,

"When the going gets tough,
may I choose love over fear.
Every time."

-Katrina Kenison

As a young man, David had the opportunity to make a choice between love and fear when the Israelites were being ridiculed and mocked by Goliath. All of the bigger, stronger soldiers were too afraid to stand up for God against the giant. But David knew the Lord would rescue him as he had always done. David knew that even when he was afraid, God was with him and would help him.

Here are some practical ways to engage with the Bible story and bring what your kids are learning at church back into your home!

• When you are out and about, notice with your child things that are big and things that are small. Talk about how God is bigger than anything we can see or imagine, and remind them that this big God loves them very much.

• Draw a picture with your child of something big. While drawing and coloring, talk about how David might have felt afraid when he saw someone so big, but he knew God would take care of him.

Our kids are never too young to start learning that God understands their fears and wants to help them!

